

ABSTRACT

A display configuration associated with displaying information from at least one 5 source is determined using a cost metric. The cost metric is associated with a cost of displaying information from the source.